Economic destruction in the wake of Net Zero

Western governments, and compliant corporate entities, are victims of one of the most destructive hoaxes ever perpetrated on the human race; that is, carbon dioxide ("CO₂") is a pollutant and our CO₂ ("carbon") emissions from coal, oil, and natural gas ("fossil fuels") will cause a climate catastrophe. Nothing could be further from the truth!

In reality, CO₂ is the gas of life and is as important as oxygen, water, and sunlight in sustaining life on the planet. Without CO₂, Earth becomes another dead planet.

Unfortunately, natural processes have reduced atmospheric CO₂ to a level less than optimum for plant growth and, furthermore, the reserves of fossil fuels are inadequate to restore an optimum level.

Consequently, the Net Zero agenda to ban or severely restrict the use of fossil fuels must be denounced as a scam to destroy modern Western economies. Dr. Patrick Moore, a co-founder of Greenpeace, has labeled Net Zero a "suicide pact".

Recognizing that the level of atmospheric CO₂ is dangerously close to the level at which plant growth ceases, carbon capture facilities must be condemned as threats to all life on Earth. That would include the facility recently commissioned by Teck with tax-payer money.
