

Trump Agitprop

The Mean Girls' Club Anti-Trump Propaganda is Unbreakable

What do I like to talk about? Lots of things: skiing, bridge, travel, nature, hiking, art and any sport which is not too political (sorry NBA). I left one subject starting with a P out, and I want to leave no doubt I did it intentionally. I am not talking about the penguins massing in the Southern Hemisphere to take over the world. I mean politics, the nastiest P word of them all.

I do not like talking politics, but the left has found the way to talk politics 24-7. They must tell you how bad the opposing leader is and by default how good they really are. I would rather talk to the Jehovah Witness than to someone about Trump.

Trump is so bad, the person actually thinks you will thank him or her for the warning. Even if the accusations were true, I do not want to hear about it especially if the person refuses to acknowledge a single glaring fault of their own guy.

The party who promoted the Russia 2016 election hoax and hid Biden's senility and corruption really has no leg to stand on. However, if they point out the other guy's faults (real, or in this case, imaginary) so loudly, they think the faults of their own party will be overlooked. That actually worked for a while, but news of their lies and deception slowly leaked out thanks to Twitter (X), Joe Rogan, Tucker Carlson and many others.

My favourite topic is skiing and having lunch in a ski cabin. This is a cabin with a group of friends and a roaring fire. There is plenty of good beer, whisky fireball shooters or even coca cola if that is your drink. There is also plenty of delicious food from the hunt known as cacciatore. There is no shortage of tasty delights, and people can have their fill. It is a pleasant moment of time.

However, there is a lag in the conversation and somebody decides to mention Trump. The vocal people agree he is bad, but never seem to be able to put a finger on exactly why. The propaganda against Trump is so fierce that it is easy enough to hate him.

The mother of Elon Musk hated Trump until the propaganda was leveled at her own son. Then she knew for a fact that those who hated Trump were liars, so she changed her view. She knew they were liars because of what they said about her own son.

Elon Musk deserves a sainthood for saving free speech by buying Twitter (X), not to mention the brilliant work he is doing with DOGE. The left has turned against Tesla which proves that electric vehicles were never about saving the environment. It was all about control of people and of energy and making money from green investments.

However, not everybody in the cabin is exclaiming their disgust with Trump. Perhaps, they have been listening to alternative news, not fake news like CBC, CNN, MSNBC, CBS, NBC, CTV, ABC, et cetera. Perhaps, they saw the Joe Rogan podcast with Donald Trump. The 45th and 47th president who won three elections in a row (2016 barely, 2020 emphatically, 2024 resoundingly by winning the popular vote) did not sound like Adolf Hitler.

Hitler was a socialist, and Trump has declared (unfortunately incorrectly I fear) that the USA will never be a socialist country. We can only hope and pray that Trump's declaration is correct.

The quiet minority also listen to Tucker Carlson who is also labelled as an extremist, but sounds normal. Tucker was fired from Fox News for his antiwar sentiment and his belief that the 2020 election was stolen. Even slow people know the 2020 election was stolen. I am not saying Tucker is slow. He is far from it, but I am saying that the cheating was so massive and so evident that a brain-dead person could be declared the winner, and even slow people could tell there was cheating.

Things are confusing. The lamestream media declares normal sounding people as extremists, but never plays an actual clip of their being extreme because there just is not one single example in existence. The same fake news media declares people who want to eliminate fossil fuels, introduce socialism and have one world order as normal.

Could the propaganda be so psychologically advanced that the real normal people are persuaded to vote against their own self-interests? Biden was all in for the USA last, just as Trudeau is all in for Canada last.

Please, can we have a leader, like Trump who puts his own country first? Others who put their own country first are Prime Minister Narendra Modi, the Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) of India, Giorgia Meloni of Italy, Viktor Orban of Hungary, Andrzej Sebastian Duda of Poland, Javier Milei of Argentina, and Jair Bolsonaro of Brazil. Other populist leaders, but not yet elected as leader of their respective countries, are Marine Le Pen of France, Santiago Abascal (Vox) of Spain, Nigel Farage (Reform UK) of the UK, Maxime Bernier (PPC) of Canada, Sahra Wagenknecht (BSW) of Germany, et cetera.

Trump is correct when he said the Liberals are better than the conservatives (Pierre Poilievre) who believe Net Zero is a goal and not an IQ. The Federal Conservative Party pretends to be a friend to conservatives but keeps disappointing them over and over again. At least with the Liberals, disappointment is expected.

The Deep State Won the Cold War

The Soviet Union dissolved in 1991, and the Warsaw Pact disbanded the same year. The Deep State (the CIA and the rest of the permanent “leviathanic” bureaucracy) won the Cold War, but did they really want to win because they had lost their raison d'être. That is when the Deep State changed to domestic targets.

The Deep State (the blob, the permanent bureaucracy, the military industrial complex) is in favour of depopulation, socialism, one world order and the elimination of cheap energy such as fossil fuels and nuclear energy. They are in bed with big Pharma, the WEF and the slime bags on the Jeffrey Epstein client list.

Regarding their efforts on depopulation, the Covid-19 Vaccine may have killed more people than Covid-19, but the data is being hidden and obscured. Deaths from long Covid-19 are likely entirely from the vaccine. Why cannot we call the Covid-19 virus the Wuhan Flu, and why is the US still funding gain of function research when that research is illegal (as it should be) in the USA?

Do I enter conversations to correct people on Trump? No, I have learned that it is frustrating arguing with somebody who has different facts. How do I recognize propaganda? I have at least average intelligence, but how do I know that I am not the one with the wrong facts?

It is because of my scientific research on carbon dioxide. I took an interest in the subject because my father has a bookshelf on the topic. At the time, I thought Dad was foolish. Oh, I knew Dad was 100% correct (about the climate change hoax) because carbon dioxide is essential for photosynthesis, but I thought Dad would win the argument in five seconds. Why did he spend so much time on something that was extremely evident and easy to prove?

I was starting to realize how powerful the propaganda really was. I had my Elon Musk mother's moment when I realized the people against carbon were liars and wanted to hurt Canada and the USA. They wanted to control energy and take away freedom and prosperity until people welcomed socialism. They doubled the debt which will eventually cause a collapse and anarchy only to be replaced by tyranny (socialism).

I knew the propaganda was powerful because of the climate change hoax which used to be the global cooling hoax then the global warming hoax and then the climate change catastrophe hoax. Because of carbon, we were worried about cooling then warming? How can we be worried (at different times) about both?

How can Dad not win his argument in five seconds? We want global warming and more CO₂ because a longer growing season, which leads to reduced world hunger, will result. As it turns out, Dad is not foolish to fight the fools. He is just up against a brick wall of propaganda.

The Deep State lost the Vietnam War but learned a valuable lesson. They lost Vietnam because they lost the propaganda war at home. They would not lose the propaganda war again. Their friends in the lamestream media (fake news) would ensure that.

I love when Trump rattles the chains of the world order climate nut jobs. He suggests Canada should be the 51st state, but I suggest the USA (the Deep State) should be the 11th province. Canada is, after all, the world leader in bureaucracy and taxes. Canada will then be known as the democratically united provinces espousing diversity (DUPED).

Canada and the USA are more propagandized than the old Soviet Union and North Korea. How do I know that for a fact when I never lived in those places? Well I just cannot imagine the level of propaganda being any higher. Joseph Goebbels would have been jealous. Now, I am just like the left, evoking a Nazi to scare people to my side of the argument.

Here is a partial list of propaganda.

Climate Change is an Existential Threat

Everything about climate change is a hoax meant to control energy and to control people. With cheap energy, people are free to drive where they want whether in a gasoline car, motorcycle or a snowmobile. Not to mention that everything is cheaper when energy is cheaper.

Carbon dioxide is 0.04% of the atmosphere and is plant food. Net zero is an IQ. CO₂ is essential for life on Earth. Greenhouse operators double and triple the level of CO₂ so that plants grow faster and become drought resistant. How can something 0.04% of the atmosphere control the climate? If that is not a hoax, why is this miracle molecule not being harnessed as an energy source? It actually is, and the name is photosynthesis.

A Fetus is not a Baby

A man has no right to tell a woman what to do with her body, but would a woman lawmaker please step forward? I am pro-abortion, but I want it called, “the taking of a life” and be very rare. A fetus is a baby and is life. Governments which cannot protect those who cannot protect themselves are useless. All conservatives should declare themselves pro-murder and not allow the left to change the subject from anti-socialism to pro-abortion.

Government will Help

The most vulnerable life is life in the womb. If the government cannot protect the most vulnerable, what is the point of it? The point of any government should be law and order, national defense, reducing the debt, and dealing with foreign powers. The government must protect those who cannot protect themselves. And of course, (Why do I have to say this?) they must put their own country first.

That is a fine answer for a social studies essay, but the actual point of government is something entirely different. It is all about power. The government must, at the very least, retain power, but if it can increase its power by growing government (bureaucracy) and controlling what people think, then its mission is truly a success.

The worst propaganda is that the government can fix any problem, and if they fail, as they always do, all they need is more money (more taxes) and more bureaucrats.

Imagine two companies competing on the open market. In one company, a worker cannot be fired for incompetence. He can only be fired for not taking the poison called the vax (the Covid-19 vaccine). In the same company, an employee clips his toenails at his desk, and having two coffee breaks (half hour each) a day is a right.

In the other company, an employee takes a coffee break for two minutes and drinks while he works at his desk. He works hard not only for promotion or for fear of being fired but because he likes his work, and doing it well is fun. Is there any doubt which company will succeed and which will fail?

The Kennedy Assassination

We have been told over and over again that there was no conspiracy and that Kennedy (JFK) was killed by a single gunman working alone. If there were a grassy knoll shooter, he was never confirmed nor identified. Kennedy was, in fact, killed by the Deep State because he was anti-war. The term conspiracy theorist came into the English vernacular to apply to people with theories that the Deep State does not like.

Watergate

Nixon was framed with Watergate. Bill Murray made this conclusion on Joe Rogan's podcast after he read Woodward's fallacious book on John Belushi (Wired). That was Bill Murray's Elon Musk mother's moment.

Bob Woodward was a naval intelligence officer who became a reporter to promote the Watergate propaganda.

The Deep State covered up the real Watergate when Barack Obama and Susan Rice spied on the Trump campaign. Hillary Clinton's Steele Dossier was also a fabricated attack on Trump. It was completely fake and paid for by the Clinton campaign.

The Deep State has been in control and even had loose control of those Republican presidents in favour of war. The exceptions were Reagan, Nixon and Trump. Reagan and Trump both survived assassination attempts, and Nixon was neutralized with the fake Watergate scandal.

Weapons of Mass Destruction

Trump became the enemy of the Deep State when he declared that there were no weapons of mass destruction. “They lied to us.” Trump implied that the Deep State wanted to scare the public so they would be in favor of the Iraq invasion.

Russia Russia Russia

From 2016 to 2020, how many times did a politician say that they have Trump dead to rights for conspiring with Russia to win the 2016 election? Too many times. It was all a hoax. It was also part of the Deep State plan to make Russia the common enemy. Nobody ever apologized for the lies. They just went on to the next lie.

On top of the Russia Hoax, Trump had to endure fake impeachments and very fake law-fare. Trump won all the law-fare cases, but the Deep State would have bankrupted a normal citizen. When will the law-fare people be disbarred?

Please can we recognize Russia as a friend? Canada only won the four Nations cup in hockey because Russia was banned.

Russian hockey player, Alex Ovechkin, has almost caught Wayne Gretzky in goals, although he has 1,242 fewer assists. Compare 894 goals and 1,963 assists in 1,487 games with 888 goals and 721 assists in 1,480 games. Can Ovechkin get 7 goals and 1,242 assists in seven games?

The Ukraine War was Unprovoked

Victoria Nuland is on tape threatening the public that they must support the war in Ukraine because 30 USA-funded biological weapons laboratories will fall into Russian hands. The left hushed her up.

Her statement alone proves that Russia was provoked. The public was not supposed to hear that. Even under Trump, the Deep State was surreptitiously messing with the democracy of Ukraine. Trump was too busy being attacked in court and being impeached that he did not know in his first term how much to distrust the Deep State.

The Deep State has been in the Ukraine since 2014 and Putin's invasion was not unprovoked. Zelensky is a Deep State puppet who bought a $30 million home in Florida. The war is supposed to save democracy, but Zelensky has cancelled elections, outlawed some religions and killed opponents including US born reporter Gonzalo Lira who spoke out against the dictator.

Sending money to a corrupt country will always prove to be a mistake. Even before weapons have been sold on the black market, Hunter Biden was given a director's position on an energy company (Burisma), and Joe Biden had a prosecutor fired who was investigating corruption in the Ukraine. If no money was sent to the Ukraine, how many lives would have been saved because the Ukraine would have sued for peace many deaths ago?

If China did in Mexico what the USA did in the Ukraine, the USA would be at war, justifiably so. The irony is that Putin is more likely to bring democracy to the Ukraine than the Deep State with their puppet ever will do. If someone loves the Ukraine, should they not love peace in the Ukraine?

By the way, why is the USA funding biological weapons laboratories anywhere (Wuhan, the Ukraine and where ever else)? Side stepping the law should be against the law. Why isn't it?

Bureaucracy Can Never be Destroyed (The Second Law)

Canada should leave NATO. It has just gotten out through Tucker Carlson that Russia asked to join NATO, but the request was declined. When the enemy of NATO asks to join NATO, the agency has served its purpose and should be disbanded.

The second law of thermodynamics states that entropy cannot be destroyed. That is 100% true, but another truth is that bureaucracy can never be destroyed either. A politician will never be successful trying to destroy bureaucracy. Just look at Stephen Harper and the CBC and at the attacks and threats to Donald Trump and Elon Musk. The bureaucracy of fake news CBC, of the Deep State in the USA and of NATO cannot be destroyed. That is the real Second Law.

The Lies about Putin are Propaganda

The USA promised the Soviet Union that NATO would not go eastward. That was a complete lie. Ukraine was the final straw.

The Deep State maintains that Putin is Hitler and will not be satisfied until he gets the Soviet Union back together. That is another lie. Tucker Carlson has reported that Putin has no desire to control more than the immense area he already controls.

Putin is bad, and Zelensky is good are just propaganda. How many lies from the Deep State and the fake news does one need to hear before a person knows the Deep State and fake news are compulsive liars and creators of agitprop (communist propaganda)?

Another Favourite Topic of Mine is Infected with TDS

TDS is Trump Derangement Syndrome. People with it sound crazy, but cannot tell that they do. They actually search for others with TDS or TEDS (Trump Elon Derangement Syndrome) because they reassure each other they are not insane.

A bridge player wrote to a group of fellow players discussing a bridge problem, “5-level sacrifices remind me of Donald Trump - to be avoided.”

The fellow who said this was not a lost cause. Bridge-wise, he happens to be incorrect, but more information is needed. Many a good board has been achieved by a five-level sacrifice. That is a fact. Sometimes, sacrifices do not work. That is also a fact, but that is no reason to avoid them, especially if good results are achieved by players with good judgment a high percentage of the time.

Not only is more information needed to form a better bridge statement, but it is also needed to form a better political statement. It could be argued that inserting politics into fun and normal circumstances is clearly bad judgment. He obviously believes the propaganda and thinks he is a better person because of his part in spreading it. He is not in need of more information, he is in need of correct information. Fortunately for the 2024 US election, people had tired of propaganda, and the slim majority (Why is it only slim? Propaganda!) had the correct information.

But why would a bridge player mention politics when he is discussing the game that he loves? Does he not know whether he is right or wrong about Trump that people are just sick and tired of hearing people rant with TDS?

All signs point to a Trump hater being a lost cause because of the propaganda, but he is not. He could be a smart fellow. Smart fellows have been known to get things wrong. In fact, quite easily if they have been fed the wrong information.

To truly find out if he is truly lost to TDS is to see what he does when presented with the facts. A pretty smart person told me he would change his views on Trump when presented with the facts I believed. However, that is not my job. I just want to talk about the bridge game or the outdoors I love.

Summary

Mark Twain is credited for a famous quote in which he said, “It is easier to fool someone than to prove they have been fooled.” There is also a journalistic principle that in order to publish something as true, a reporter needs two independent sources.

The fake news uses circular sources which reference each other, and all recite the same talking points. The Ukraine war is unprovoked. Russia interfered with the 2016 election. Hunter’s laptop is Russian disinformation. Trump is Hitler. Trump wants to be a dictator. Trump said Charlottesville had fine people on both sides.

The media has never apologized when all these statements were proven to be false. The fake news also has no idea that Trump is a pretty funny person. They take all his jokes at face value. Trump made a joke about being a dictator for a day, and the media is still running with it.

In summary, Trump Derangement Syndrome is just a result of effective and professional propaganda. How can anybody stay in the mean girls’ club which calls Trump, Hitler? Have people really forgotten what Hitler did? They are just inciting assassination attempts by nut-jobs supported by duped people under the spell of propaganda.

Without a free and honest fourth estate (the press), the propaganda battle is a lost cause. A person can repeat that carbon is not a poison until he is blue in the face with no change of minds. Propaganda done by experts with years of experience is incredibly effective.

The next time, you hear a person denigrate Trump, just smile and say nothing to the latest recruit of the mean girls' club. After all, the mean girls' club could target you.
