After the assassination attempt in Butler Pennsylvania, Trump clenched his fist in the air after getting shot in the ear, and said, “Fight, Fight, Fight.” People could not deny Trump was a brave man destined for greatness. Hopefully there is no third assassination attempt.

Elon Musk came on board at that time.

Trump learned a lot from his first term in office, and chose a mighty fine cabinet for his second term. Better cabinet with Tulsi Gabbard (Director of National Intelligence), Pam Bondi (Attorney General), RFK Jr. (Secretary of Health and Human Services), Marco Rubio (Secretary of State), Pete Hegseth (Secretary of Defense), Lee Zeldin (EPA Administrator) et cetera

Trump, as he promised, eliminated the Federal Department of Education.

In his first term, Trump picked some people who thwarted the president such as Jeff Sessions (Attorney General) and Mike Pompeo (Secretary of State). Jeff Sessions recused himself as if he thought Trump was guilty. If Sessions had a spine and did not bow before the Deep State, Trump could have been even more productive in his first term.

Mike Pompeo may have been two-faced. According to Tucker Carlson, he was loyal to the blob because he considered murdering Julian Assange. Assange was a true reporter who tried to hold the powerful accountable through Wiki Leaks.

Fake news protects the powerful and attacks the powerless, like the anti-vaxxers, January 6th sightseers, people holding prayer sessions outside abortion clinics, parents protesting at school board meetings, et cetera.

DOGE

Elon Musk was a senior advisor. Musk despite threats of personal injury and attacks on Tesla, he believed the US is a sinking ship and if it does not balance the budget and pay back the debt, she will sink. He was in charge of the Department of Government Efficiency, who looked for fraud, waste and abuse.

Tariffs

When it comes to trade, many countries take advantage of the US. Trump tried to use tariffs to get Mexican and Canadian officials to reduce the amount of fentanyl crossing the border. Trump also promised reciprocal tariffs to give the US a fair shake on the global market.

This is also true for defense spending because most NATO members pay 2% of the GDP of the respective country.
